

GENESIS 3:8

By Keith Frank

I have always wanted to know why God chose the "Cool of the Day", highlighting this element prior to the punishment of Satan, Adam and Eve. So I decided to make a short post to briefly examine this question. Thank you and God bless you.

D. under the phrase, Abraham's bosom, and) on the rabbinical phrase אברהם של ב'קו, in Abraham's bosom, to designate bliss in paradise, cf.

Since Adam was the first man and acquired death as a punishment for all subsequent men, this would be the start of "Abraham's Bosom".

◀ 630. apoluó ▶

Strong's Concordance

apoluó: to set free, release

Original Word: ἀπολύω

Part of Speech: Verb

Transliteration: apoluó

Phonetic Spelling: (ap-ol-oo'-o)

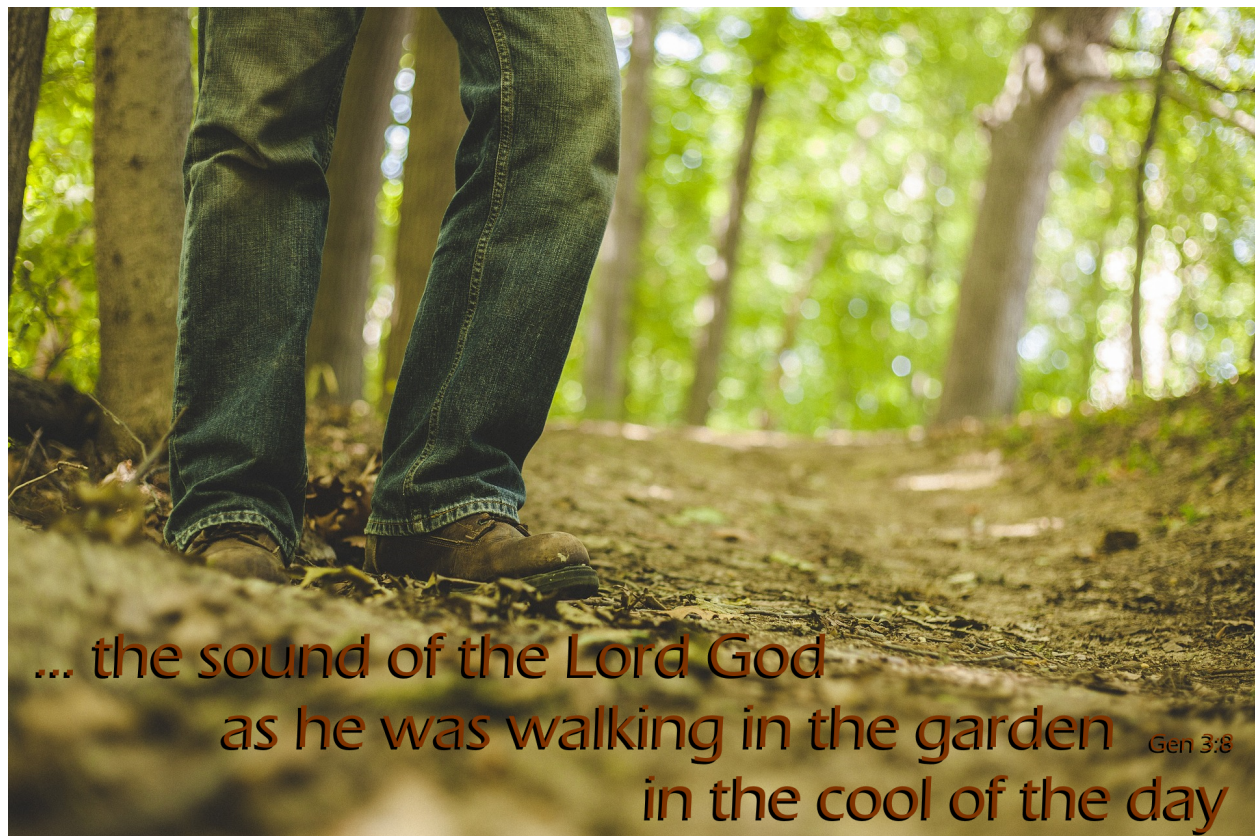

Definition: to set free, release

Usage: I release, let go, send away, divorce, am rid; mid: I depart.

SEND AWAY

"So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life."

GENESIS 3:24

CONCLUSION

With these obviously striking results, directly referring to the "Fall of Man" (Genesis 3), I believe that God literally wanted their punishments to be rendered at a specific point (temperature) in the day. With that said, there remains one question; could the end times tribulation be similar ("thief in the night")?
